

Retail and ad seminar planned

Algonquin Graphics Ltd., publishers of the Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder, is sponsoring a retail and advertising seminar, Wednesday, May 4, at the PineStone Inn.

There is no charge for the seminar, which will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Conducting the seminar will be Professor R.A. Marcus, an associate of the Marketing Institute of Canada, and Professor of Marketing at McGill University School of Business.

Professor Marcus is well known in the marketing circles and conducts regular marketing seminars for small businesses as well as acting as a marketing consultant for major retail corporations.

Special guest luncheon speaker will be David L. Gray, a partner in the accounting firm of Dawson and Gray. Mr. Gray will be speaking on the role of the accountant in the Haliburton County Business Community.

Ronald Hore, Manager of the Bank of Montreal in Haliburton, will also speak during the luncheon. His topic will be the chartered bank's role in the Haliburton Business Community.

John Zylstra, president of Algonquin Graphics, urges all businessmen to attend. "This is an exceptional opportunity to gain first hand information that will help to increase your share of the market potential", he said.

Teamwork produces results, Saturday at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Tracy Bennett, Kathy Crofts and Bev Jones clean up a car to help raise money for the grade 11 history trip that will take H.H.S.S. students to Ohio on Thursday. Students were washing cars

Sunday as well in two locations. They have raised enough money themselves for a first class trip that may also provide some exciting discoveries as the students examine unexplained earthworks and serpent mounds.

Shoreline allowance

Clarification on status

Lutterworth council has sent a letter to Bill Scott, MP Victoria-Haliburton, to request a clarification of the legal status of the 66 foot shoreline allowance.

Lutterworth Reeve, Pat Conaghan, said Monday that he is of the understanding that the 66 foot allowance is under federal and not provincial jurisdiction, according to his reading of Section 637 of the Municipal Act.

Mr. Conaghan said that he hopes to have an answer in a couple of weeks on whether the land is properly under federal control. The provincial Ontario Municipal Board at present takes jurisdiction over the sale and transfer of such road allowances.

Mr. Conaghan said that a law firm that was asked to interpret what the Reeve feels is a relevant section of the Municipal Act replied that they were unable to interpret the passage or give a definite answer without more research.

The confusion surrounding the 66 foot allowance is one that Reeve Conaghan would like to see cleared up for the sake of property owners who have buildings on the 66 foot section and cannot have a registered sale of their land for lack of a deed.

He noted that Lutterworth council has granted seven building permits while he has been in office to allow construction within the required set back, considering these minor variances to be necessary and acceptable in the circumstances.

The appeal has been made to Mr. Scott with the hopes that some clarification may come for the federal level.

The municipality hopes to have a representative of the Ministry of Housing present at a special meeting of council on Monday to clarify that Ministry's position on the issue.

Councillors fear service problem in health care

At least two members of Haliburton County Council are under the impression that there is a service problem between the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Public Health Nurses and the residents of the county.

Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope Township, said that he is concerned about doctors in the county not using the nurses.

Doug Pritchard, Deputy Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden agreed with Mr. Nesbitt. Both admitted that there are some problems with the service.

Reg Booth, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, said that he is concerned about the Victorian Order of Nurses. He said that his municipality is part of VON and it should be deleted if the people aren't getting the service.

Reeve Nesbitt noted that "We are paying for something we aren't getting at all from the VON or the Health Unit."

Keith Tallman, Deputy Reeve of Monmouth Township, the county's representative on the District Health Unit, said that the VON and the District Health Unit are different services.

He told the council that with the District Health nurses the service has to go through a doctor or the Ontario Hospital Plan will not cover the visits.

He pointed out that the unit is presently trying to educate the doctors to use the service.

Reeve Nesbitt said that the problem does seem to be getting the doctors and the Health Unit together.

Discussion should have been closed

Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope Township, feels that a discussion at the Haliburton County Council meeting, last March, should not have taken place in a public session.

Reeve Nesbitt was referring to a discussion about the payment for the care of a youngster in Lutterworth Township under the Juvenile Delinquent Act.

He said that the local newspapers might as well have printed the youngsters name. He said that the youngster has been getting a hard time at school since the story appeared in the newspapers.

Concerning the payment to keep the child it was noted at the April meeting of the county council that an announcement is expected soon from the province concerning how much that body would pay for the keep of children under the Act.

Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey, said all the county has to do now is pay until July 1 and then the problem is over.

Lutterworth Reeve, Pat Conaghan, said that the county should attempt to recover some of the money it will have to pay if it is possible.

Lease up for registry offices

A 10 year lease agreement the Ministry of Government Services has with Haliburton County, for the use of part of the county offices, as a registry office, has expired and now the county will have to wait to see what the next agreement will be.

Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope Township, said that he wouldn't step into the situation easily. He pointed out that the building was 100 percent subsidized by the province and the county wouldn't get anything if it was sold.

County Clerk, Wynn Lahay, said that she doesn't think it is a question of the Ministry buying the building. She pointed out that they are interested in another lease agreement.

Top student communicators picked at public speaking contest

The ability to communicate, to express thoughts and feelings, does not come naturally to most but is learned. The skills of spoken communication have been very well learned indeed by a number of students from across the county who participated in an oral communications competition that finished Monday evening with winners named at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

In what the judges honestly said was a difficult decision, Michele Lewis of Highland Grove was picked as the top speaker at the elementary level, and Paul Madden of West Guilford was awarded top honours from the secondary finalists. Michele is 13 and in grade eight at Cardiff, and Paul is 14, a grade 10 student at H.H.S.S.

The winners were presented with individual plaques by Richard Poole, Chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education. The awards were the personal donation of the members of the board.

Pens were given to all contestants and Robert Penfold, a teacher at H.H.S.S., also made a presentation of silver dollars to the students on behalf of the teachers. Kay Finley, a teacher in Cardiff, presented certificates to the elementary finalists.

At the secondary level, Gerri-Lee Agnew, 15, and in grade 10, of Wilberforce, Deborah McCarron, 16, of Minden, in grade nine, and Anne Edwards, 15, of Haliburton, also in grade nine, were the other contestants.

Cameron Monk, 14, of Minden, and in grade eight at Archie Stouffer, Beth Brown, 13, of Dorset and in grade eight, and Kim Ward, 13, of Haliburton and in grade eight at Haliburton Senior Elementary were the elementary finalists.

Students have been preparing for the final competition for many weeks. They were asked to read a passage from a book of their choice, deliver their speech and then face a two minute question period as Mrs. Finlay and Audrey Chambers, a Minden teacher, asked the contestants about matters relating to their topics.

The competition required self assurance and an ability to think quickly and speak well. All the students did well, and judges had a particularly hard choice to make since some excelled at one of the three areas more than others, and a winner still had to be chosen. Subject matter ranged from Big Macs to Olga Korbut.

Students were judged on their reading ability, articulation and vocabulary, as well as their audience contact.

The aim of the competition is to judge the ability to communicate subject matter to others and, as moderator Stuart Baker noted, to demonstrate some enthusiasm for reading.

The judges were the Reverend Trevor Denny, of Haliburton, Sid Cooper of West Guilford, a teacher at H.H.S.S., and Greta Kellet, a former teacher and now a supply teacher.

Mr. Cooper, spokesman for the judges, mentioned that especially at the secondary level the readings seemed to be somewhat bloodthirsty, perhaps, he noted, a sign of the times. Readings given at the elementary level were judged to be more enthusiastic and imaginative in choice and delivery.

The winning speakers chose as their well researched areas, issues that sparked a good deal of discussion. Paul spoke on an ecological matter of chemical contamination of cattle, and Michele caught the judges interest by speaking about the social and economic problems in the Haliburton area.

The contest was sponsored by the Haliburton Board of Education in conjunction with the teachers' federations in the county, all of whom wanted to see the public speaking continued within the area, although it is no longer sponsored on a province-wide basis.

These are the finalists who spoke Monday in the Haliburton County oral communications competition. Michele Lewis of Highland Grove was named the top speaker at the elementary level and Paul Madden, West Guilford, was chosen for first place from the secondary school contestants. The judges were faced with a difficult decision to make among (front row) Michele, grade 8, Gerri-Lee Agnew of Wilberforce, grade 10, Kim Ward, haliburton, grade 8, Beth Brown, Dorset, grade 8, (back row) Paul, grade 10, Deborah McCarron, Minden, grade 9, Anne Edwards, Haliburton, grade 9, and Cameron Monk, Minden, grade 8.

Dysart clerk, Wayne Wood, and Emil Neimann of the Loyal Orange Lodge, of Haliburton, exchange a cheque for $500 donated to the Dysart arena fund. Mr. Wood noted that anyone at the municipal office will take in donations large or small for the project, as the municipality is acting as treasurer. Thanks from all go to organizations like the Lodge who have been able to be so generous in their contributions.

Apportionments

Discussion is cut short at meeting

A discussion on county apportionments for the various municipalities was cut short at Haliburton County Council last week when Dysart et al. Reeve Murray Fearrey objected to the discussion and demanded a vote on the issue.

Mr. Fearrey pointed out to the council that according to parliamentary rules and procedure an objection can be upheld if two thirds of the council votes in favor of it.

Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope Township, had asked at the meeting that the county review the apportionments and pointed out that his municipality did not think that they were fair. Mr. Nesbitt said that he would write a resolution.

At that time Reeve Fearrey voiced his objection on the grounds that no concrete evidence was proposed for an amendment to the bylaw which set the apportionments.

In asking for a vote on the objection Reeve Fearrey pointed out that if the objection was upheld the original resolution could not be discussed again at that session of council.

The vote on the objection was upheld 12 to 6 by the council.

News from Extendicare

BY CHARLES PLEWMAN

I thought that today I might pull the curtains aside and let you take a peek at a typical day at Extendicare.

The day commences around 7:00 or 7:15 a.m. when you are awakened by a knock on the door and a sweet voice saying "Good Morning Mr. Jones" and then, in not so sweet a way, turning the switch and flooding the room with light. This indicates that they mean business usually stops you from rolling over and having another snooze.

From now until 8:00, the Nurses Aides rush around getting the residents ready for breakfast. The handicapped have to be assisted in dressing, placed in wheelchairs and taken to the dining room. Others have to be dressed and then supported as they make their way to their place in the dining room. Breakfast is probably the most satisfying meal of the day. You can satisfy the needs of most people with Orange Juice, Porridge, Eggs in different styles, and Bacon, Toast, Jam and Coffee.

It is here that the handicaps and the idiosyncrasies of the residents begin to become apparent. The staff wanting to get everybody off to a good start "kid the troops" and do everything they can to make the meal hour enjoyable. With so many persons handicapped in one way or another, and often lacking in appetite, this is no easy task.

Breakfast is often the time when the morning medication is given out by the Nurse in Charge.

Breakfast is soon over - some return to their rooms, others (many of them in wheelchairs) move into the lounge. It is nice on arrival to your room to find out that your bed is already made and the room cleaned.

Program activities that you may or may not participate commence at 10:00 a.m. They consist of a wide range of activities such as games and exercises, handicraft, transplanting, basketry, etc. This is especially important for our handicapped and wheelchair residents so that they are not sitting in their wheelchairs all day long. Personally I would hate to sit in a wheelchair all day long, with no activity.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Donna Dillon, the Homes liaison representative to the outside world, is listing the 101 things the residents and the Home require that day from downtown. Her obliging manner and unflappable nature are greatly appreciated.

Lunch is served at 12:00 and often consists of Homemade Soup, Cold Meat or Fruit Salad and Dessert. Barbecued Lunches held out of doors are also enjoyed. With the meal over, some retire to their rooms for a snooze and others just do what comes naturally.

The Afternoon activities on a take it or leave it basis commences at 2:00 p.m. and could be movies, bingo, handicraft, birthday parties and Bus Rides. With the warmer weather here more are getting outside. When we go on bus trips we usually leave around two o'clock. After 3 is a do as you like time. The mail has arrived and so have the visitors. Their visits are greatly appreciated.

Dinner is served at 5:00, unlike breakfast, it is hard to suit everybody as our tastes differ so much. The news comes on at 6:00 p.m. and many of us watch it in our rooms or in the lounge. The Home endeavours to have many of the residents as possible meet others three or four times a day and especially so at meal hours and snack periods, as it all helps to create good fellowship.

Concerts and Parties are held at different occasions commencing at 2:30 and 7:30. At 7:45, or thereabouts, light refreshments are served before retiring. Here again, the Aides are busy helping all of the handicapped to get to their rooms and prepare for the night's rest.

The Home has to be staffed 24 hours a day. Miss Sheila Elston, our Administrator, must have quite a time arranging the schedule.

Mr. Andrew Ugor, Area Supervisor for Extendicare spent Monday with us.

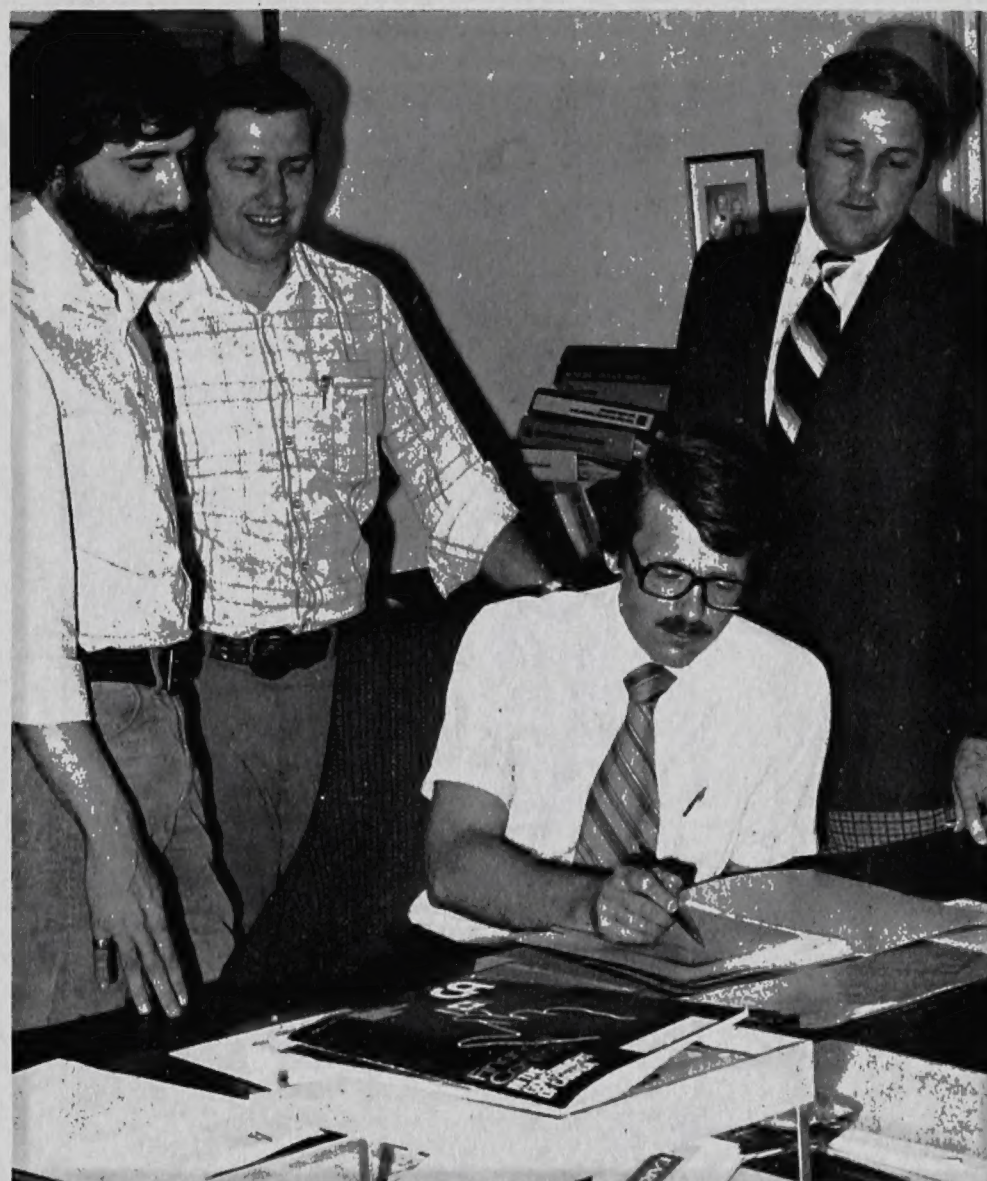

Wednesday, April 20th, we were entertained by Miss Jennifer Bowen, a Rotary Club Exchange Student from South Africa. Miss Bowen showed some beautiful slides of her native land taken by her father and herself. From a composition and colour standpoint they were excellent. The close ups of wild life were also splendid. Following the pictures there was a question and answer period. The Rotary Club of Haliburton has an exchange student in Australia.

Our Monthly Party for those having birthdays during the month was held on Thursday afternoon of the 21st. Those honoured were Ezra Lott, Emma Wyatt, Halda Dean, Flossie Burk and Hugh Sinclair.

Mrs. Betty Salvatori played the piano for the Sing Song. The birthday cake was baked by Florence Burk and Hazel Parish.

During the week such regular activities as games, exercises, carpet bowling, darts were well attended.

Dave Woodall, ARC workshop manager, Don Popple, president of the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded and Gerry Dawson, treasurer, look over Dr. Bob Heyes shoulder as plans for the Flowers of Hope campaign get underway. Dr. Heyes heads the campaign that is special this year in that it hopes to receive generous support for the opening of a residence for six mentally retarded adults. The plans for the Haliburton home are now a reality. The country-wide campaign for the retarded is going to produce local results.

Norland

Councillor sees little expense for centre

Eric Voutier, a councillor for the United Townships of Digby, Laxton and Longford, said that very little expense will be incurred by the taxpayers of the municipality on their tax bills from the building of a new community hall at Ward Park, Norland.

In an article sent to this newspaper Mr. Voutier said, "This article is being written in an attempt to clarify matters for those taxpayers who are either being misled or are simply confused concerning the possibility of building a new Community Hall at Ward Park in Norland."

He pointed out that funds for the project will be obtained from the Women's Auxiliary "who have done an excellent job in raising funds and who will continue to raise money for this project," from the parks account and the remainder from a Winterio Grant which provides funds for sports, recreation and cultural projects at an approximate two to one ratio.

"Very little expense if any will be incurred by the taxpayers on their tax bills," he said.

Mr. Voutier noted that the feasibility of a new community hall, actual costs of construction, as well as what can be obtained by means of a grant are being checked into in greater detail by the hall board.

"Several rumors indicate we don't need a community hall at this time. However, with some people, the time never comes for a project of this nature," he said.

Mr. Voutier added, "It's our township, let's take pride in it, let's take a positive and progressive attitude towards our future."

He pointed out that a new hall will provide better recreational facilities for the growing population and for the youth. "We could accommodate banquets, weddings, dances and social events of a variety of nature on a greater scale than we are now doing," he said.

Mr. Voutier noted that the township should get a fair share from the provincial government. "The Winterio grant is provided to assist the local townships with projects of this nature and we should capitalize on this opportunity while we can!" he concluded.

Glee Club working for opening night

This year, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School GLEE CLUB has been working diligently in preparation for opening night of W.S. Gilbert and A. Sullivan's "RUDDIGORE" or "THE WITCH'S CURSE".

This two act Operetta combines an amusing plot and dialogue with light-hearted music, choreography, costumes and special effects contribute to this delightful performance.

Each member of the Glee Club has given much time and effort (including week-ends) since September to make this production a success. Without director and pianist Mr. Bill Gliddon, this would not have been possible. It is through his dedication and encouragement that the students have produced what will be an entertaining and rewarding experience.

"RUDDIGORE" was performed twice in Bancroft on April 15, where it was met with much enthusiasm, expressed by a standing ovation. On May 4, 5, 6 and 7 in H.H.S.S. auditorium at 8 p.m., "RUDDIGORE" will be presented to you, the people of Haliburton County. Plan now to attend.

Log cabin building classes ran at Camp Kandalore last summer were such a tremendous success that the Haliburton School of Fine Arts is undertaking a similar project this summer. The course is listed in the schools new edition of Summer and Fall classes and will take place in two sessions, one from July 4 to 15th and one from July 18 to 29th. The fee is $90.00 per session and will include actual construction of a log building under the direction of Doug Driver from Peterborough. The course last summer was over subscribed almost as soon as it was announced so if you are interested we would suggest you contact the school immediately.

Minority is working according to Eakins

Victoria-Haliburton MPP, John Eakins, says that an election is becoming more possible all of the time in Ontario but he feels that it would be a mistake to call one at this time.

Mr. Eakins said that the $20 million the election will cost could be better spent creating projects for Ontario's unemployed.

He pointed out that as far as he is concerned the minority government is working but it looks like Premier William Davis will go out on his own and call an election.

Mr. Eakins said that his party, the Liberals, are trying to do what they can to keep an election from happening.

Personally, Mr. Eakins said, he feels he has worked hard for Victoria-Haliburton.

A place for mentally retarded called society

"There's a place for the Mentally Retarded ... it's called Society."

If a mentally retarded person is to be provided with the assistance he or she needs to face the problems of living in the community and is to be given the opportunity to develop to his ultimate potential, he must at all times be given the greatest possible degree of participation in life. Society must maintain for him the maximum degree of normalcy in all his experiences to allow him a healthy and happy development as a total person.

As a result of a number of studies published in Canada and abroad, we have come to realize that the problems faced by the majority of the mentally retarded are primarily of a social nature rather than a medical nature, and that the segregation of these persons in an isolated institution is not an adequate, let alone a suitable form of care. From this awareness a new philosophy has emerged, causing the phasing down of large institutions and the return of all rehabilitable persons from institutions to their own communities. Since admission to these facilities has been restricted to the more severely handicapped, it is the responsibility of our association to retarded persons that remains in the community, to permit them the opportunity to participate effectively to the extent each is able.

The Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded has for the past eighteen months been negotiating with the Ministry of Community and Social Services for approval and the necessary funding to develop accommodation for six adults. All parts of our County will benefit by this programme. It is designed to offer the mentally retarded adult presently living at home, a place to live in supervised independence. Stimulation through work and recreation in the residence and in the Community will enable all residents to live as independent a life as their potential will allow.

The residence will provide two distinct types of services. One will be an intensive training programme for those who have the potential to move out on their own, preparing them in such areas as money management, social skills and home management. The other service will be a long term residence program for those whom independent living is an unrealistic goal. Within both groups, each individual will be carefully assessed to assure not only that they can benefit from the experience, but also to assure that they are ready for and capable of integrating into the community.

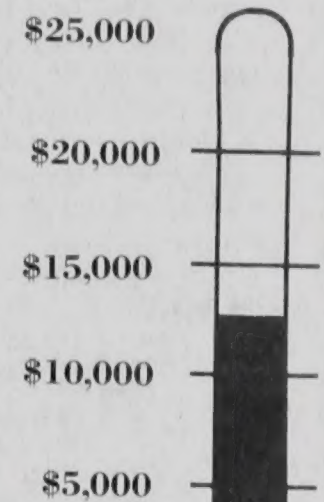

All residents will be people from the county of Haliburton. This will insure not only that people in Haliburton County will be provided with a needed service, but also that the Association provides will not be over taxed by people from other areas.

Because it will be an intensive training programme there will always be at least two staff on duty at all times. There will be one couple who will live in the home, one full time person trained in mental retardation, two part time people to work weekends and one part time residence director responsible for the administration and co-ordination of the programmes. It is hoped that all of these staff will be hired from the county. To complement the three full time staff and the three part time staff, the association will encourage the community through volunteers to be involved in sharing specific skills (e.g. gardening).

The residence will use various facilities within the community as training aids. All residents will be either employed at ARC Industries, or in the community throughout the day. They will all be involved in the management of the house and will take turns sharing such tasks as cooking, cleaning, shopping and general maintenance. They will use the banks, the show, the arena and the stores.

The residence programme was developed after many, many hours of discussion and planning to ensure a high quality of service. It is expected that this programme will become a reality in the very near future.

County council decided at its March meeting to reject the bylaw to close a portion of shoreline allowance.

At that meeting of County council the bylaw was rejected by a 24 to 3 vote. Lutterworth has three votes on the county council.

At that time Reeve Conaghan said that he saw fit to bring the bylaw to the county and that the township will follow the case through regardless of what the county council decides.

Vandalism problem throughout Ontario

Vandalism seems to be a problem not only in Haliburton County but throughout the Province of Ontario. Vandalism is a continuing problem that we here in the County face.

Just recently we have heard reports that some person or persons are running around the county smashing up mail boxes while others are making a practice of stealing gas from parked vehicles in used car parking lots.

Haliburton in the past has run into many acts of vandalism such as flags being stolen from various flag poles, trouble at a speed wash laundromat, signs being torn down and damage being done to the boxes in the lobby at the Haliburton Post Office. These are just a few of the problems that we are continually being faced with. It would seem to us that people could put their time to better use by helping other people for example, instead of tearing things apart.

Editorial writers for years have commented and editorialized upon vandalism without much success. We can't afford to have policemen standing everywhere at everytime in the day.

Citizens can help and should feel duty bound to help police in matters of vandalism. If you see something happen then report it. The police are being paid to investigate this and will.

This is one way to keep the ever mounting costs of vandalism down here in the county. If children and young adults know that they might be caught then they tend not to try and get away with such deliberate vandalism.

We always seem to be trying to make an effort to keep our youths busy and off the streets but there are always some adults who also cause vandalism.

If you see something report it. Let these people causing all of this trouble know that they can't get away with it.

Communications is not boards problem

The education system in Ontario has taken quite a beating over the past few years, both verbally and in the news media.

Last week the system in Haliburton County was hit because of its so called lack of communications. The lack of communications is supposedly between the elementary school and high school levels.

If there is a lack of communications I doubt if it has been caused by the system or our board of education.

From what I can see the system has attempted to create communications; first of all by establishing one board of education for the entire county and secondly by working as one unit for many years.

The board itself has tried to create communications by holding such events as professional development days, which most people were under the impression were to help the teachers communicate with each other, no matter what level they were teaching.

If there is a lack of communications it is mainly due to the teachers themselves. The board of education cannot force them to sit and talk to each other, they can only suggest it.

Recreation director will create work

If Dysart gets a recreation director there will be more work for the volunteer help than there is now.

A recreation director will not take the place of the people who are organizing sports and recreation in the community right now.

The load on the president of the minor hockey association will not be lessened by a recreation director. The taxpayers of this municipality cannot afford to hire a person to act as the president, or instead of the presidents of the various associations.

Hopefully, everyone will have a clear look at what a recreation director does and what his or her responsibility is before we go and force our municipal council to take action on the matter.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

We have just received word that a former Haliburton man Leonard Burford has passed away. Len as he was more commonly known was a veteran of world war I and served with the 20th Battalion and trained in Haliburton before going overseas. He spent 30 years with the Toronto Police Department and nine years with Confederation Life Insurance Company.

Mike Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Baker is making quite a name for himself in the hockey world. Mike who plays for the Lions Club Atoms in Oakville has won many individual awards. The following was taken from one of the Oakville papers. We quote. Lions Club and Mowbray Fuels pasted their semi final opposition be a combined score of 14-1, but Mike Baker and the Lions proved too much for Mowbray in the atom house league final recently in Oakville. Baker in the final game, scored all three goals as Lions shut out Mowbray 3-0.

Rick Poole, chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education was a recent speaker at the regular Thursday night meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Rick gave an enlightening talk on the functions of the local Board of Education. The Board employs 163 persons and this year's budget will be 4 million dollars.

Congratulations from the Haliburton County Echo and to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntyre of Haliburton who recently celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary. They were married in 1915. May you both have many more years together.

Our thanks to our good friend Al Perrin who wrote the article for our full page spread on the memories of the Golden Slipper. We have had many comments on this article and photos and we have to agree that when the Slipper was finally torn down that it was the end of an era. Al summed it up very well when he stated that it was a place where friends meet friends and make friends.

Have you noticed that the new coloured street lights are now up on Haliburton's main street. They really add that extra bit of colour needed when you drive into town. One thing that does bother us when we are on the subject of lights is the fact that the street lights on several streets in the village including the main street are off a great deal of the time. We hope that the hydro will soon come up with a solution to rectify this problem.

According to the Rotary Club of Haliburton proceeds to date from Snow-a-Rama stand at $7,370.00 While on the subject of money have you sent in your donation to the Easter Seal Fund. Ron Hore, chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign reports they have received $1,044.00 to date. Send in your donation today.

Plans are now well underway to install lights at the tennis courts at Haliburton.

Donations are still needed for the repairs and improvements to the Dysart Community Centre. Please send in your contribution right away.

The Haliburton Tennis Club will meet on Monday, May 2nd, at 7:00 p.m. at the Tennis Courts. This meeting is open to anyone interested in tennis. If you are unable to attend you should call 457-2983 evenings.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

Parliamentary procedure was the topic of the day at Haliburton County Council last week, and because of it a needless discussion was saved and a worthless piece of discussion was allowed on the floor.

First of all there is little the county council can do now to change its apportionments so any discussion about the subject during a county council meeting would do nothing but cause hard feelings and perhaps make some bad publicity for certain members.

Well Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey cut the discussion short by forcing a vote on an objection to the argument which was upheld by the council.

In the other case, one of the members of the county council has decided that the floor of the council is the place to criticize the type of parliamentary procedure used by our MPP's in Toronto.

Pat Conaghan, Reeve of Lutterworth Township said he was not too happy about the type of proceedings that took place during the bringing down of the provincial budget last week.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Reg Booth agreed but was not quite as vocal about the subject.

Parliamentary procedure aside, why would Mr. Conaghan take up the time of our county council to voice his objection? It is doubtful that what he said at the meeting ever will go much further.

Nobody rushed out to tell the world that Lutterworth's Reeve wasn't happy about how our MPP's behave themselves.

Although Mr. Conaghan did not overstep the rules of parliamentary procedure to make his point be known to the rest of the members of county council he seemed to forget one thing that the county council sits to work on the problems of the county. I am certain the MPP's in Toronto can work out their own problems if not they will not be re-elected.

The same thing goes for all elected officials.

As others see it

An open letter to the teachers and parents of Haliburton County.

May I offer a further comment to this newspaper's coverage of the April 12 meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education (Teacher says Decline in Ability to Write -- April 20).

I am concerned that some of the statements reported may create an erroneous impression of my attitude toward the elementary school teachers of this County. It would be a disservice to them and to the parents if these impressions were to remain unclarified.

I wish also to make clear that I am not finding fault with the reporting of what was said, but rather with some of the impressions created within the meeting itself. As time did not permit me to explain fully then, I should like the opportunity to do so now.

My criticism of our present English curriculum was aimed at what I feel is a lack of consistency throughout our school system. Basic elements, such as grammar and writing skills, are presented in depth by some teachers and superficially, or not at all, by others. This means that some students, regardless of ability, are ill-equipped to meet the needs of high school courses. In no sense did I imply that the problems of high school instruction may be placed at the door of the public schools. Such a suggestion would be both presumptuous and unfair. Nor did I suggest that the individual creative talents of public school teachers be restricted. Such an idea is contrary to my own philosophy of education.

My comments to the Board of Trustees were intended to be a suggestion for positive action to improve communication between the elementary and the secondary schools. I hoped that our dialogue could lead perhaps to the creation of a sequential core curriculum from kindergarten to grade 13; that in future, time might be set aside for the co-operative planning of a practical comprehensive outline which would define and describe the specific skill objectives of each grade without interfering with individual needs and talents.

Admittedly, the task is not an easy one, but I must respectfully disagree with Mr. Hodgson's observation that "no educational organization is in support" of what I propose. There is ample evidence that my idea is not original, and that such curricula are presently in operation with the full support of the Ministry. What is different about our community is its size. With only five public schools and one high school, Haliburton County has the opportunity to develop a curriculum not possible in more complex systems.

What I am suggesting is a long way from the "lock-step" system of yore, when every child was taught the same thing from the same book at the same time. However, unless we decide what communication skills are basic to every child's education and at what point in his or her development they should be introduced, we shall continue to be frustrated when our students do not meet our more limited expectations.

In my opinion, child-centred education and curriculum centred education are not mutually exclusive. To work together to effect a more consistent progression from the very beginning of a child's education to the point at which he leaves school would, I believe, benefit both teacher and student and more effectively serve the needs of our community.

Growing Old

There are so many things to enjoy still
Just ordinary things that some folks miss
The early blush of dawn on eastern hill,
Chirping of birds and sun's first morning kiss.
The smell of wood smoke in the frosty air,
The sound of crunching snow beneath my feet.
A bluejay in the elm tree there,
Raising his weird complaining voice to greet.
Red faced children hurrying from their gate,
Waving their hands to greet the ones they know
Helping the small ones lest by change they're late.
Just as I did so many years ago.

When growing old what joy to reminisce
Remembering the happy times, the play house bliss

When playmates came to visit and pretend,
That we were mothers, house to keep and dolls to tend.

Forget the sorrows, heart aches, pain and tears,
Seeing our children grow to adults years.

Just thank God for his word of truth and light
That guides our stumbling feet and failing sight.

This and That

BY JENNIFER WOODS

The recipes that you are reading this week are very special because they were given to me by people who read my column and who want to share their favourite recipes with you.

The first is a marvelous recipe for BAGELS

2 pkgs active dry yeast
4 1/4 - 4 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1 1/2 cups lukewarm water
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt

In a large mixing bowl combine yeast and 1 1/4 cups flour. Combine water, sugar and salt and add to yeast mixture. Beat at low speed with an electric mixer for 1/2 a minute, scraping sides of bowl constantly. Beat for 3 minutes at high speed. By hand stir in enough of the remaining flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn out on a lightly floured surface and knead until smooth, 5-8 minutes. Cut into 12 portions and shape into smooth balls.

Cover and let rest for 15 minutes. Cut a hole in the centre of each with floured fingers. Pull gently to enlarge hole working each bagel into uniform shape. Cover let rise for 20 minutes. In a large kettle combine 1 gallon of water and 1 tablespoon sugar and bring to a boil. Reduce the temperature to simmer and cook bagels 4 or 5 at a time for seven minutes, turning once. Drain. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 375 F oven for 30-35 minutes. Makes 12 Bagels.

Next is Apple Pie with Sour Cream a real surprise and delicious.

1 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup flour
3/4 cup sour cream
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
Apples

Mix sugar, butter and flour into crumbs Sprinkle 1/2 of the crumbs into the bottom of the prepared pie shell. Peel and core apples and arrange on top of the crumbs. Mix 1/2 of the remaining crumbs with the sour cream and pour over the apples. Finally mix the cinnamon with the rest of the crumbs and sprinkle over the top. Bake at 425 F for 10 minutes and then 325 F for 30 minutes. Delicious!

Thanks to both of you for taking the time share with us.

It was Mathews night at the Wednesday Night Euchre, meaning that they swept 3 out of 5 prizes. Arlene Mathews won High Ladies, Dan Mathews won High Mans, Gilbert Rawley - won Lone Hands, Tom Thompson got Low Score, Ben Mathews got the third of the Mathews prizes by winning the Travel prize.

Future Arena Fund Events look something like this May 21st Kinsmen Auction at the Lloyd Watson Community Centre, if you have anything you care to donate, please contact Mac Gadoway at 448-2268 in Harcourt, Mike Carberry - 448-2926 at Tory Hill (after 6 pm) Chuck Lindsay in Wilberforce - 448-2035 and Ron Barr at 447-2039.

In the evening of May 21 at 5 o'clock the Recreation Committee is offering a family social evening starting with a Beef Barbecue Dinner, and the rest of the evening spent in the company of your neighbours with liquid refreshments available. The dinner will be $4.50 for adults, $2.00 for children under 12 years.

May 28th sees the Minor Hockey Assoc. holding a family dance, there will be no bar, but that shouldn't "bar" anyone from having a good time.

The Monmouth Youth Group is holding a Riot Day Carnival on June 25 at the Community Centre from 10:00 - 4:00 then in the evening there will be a Teen Dance "Riot Day Rock" 8 - 12.

Now for all you down home and just plain country people (of which I count myself one) the Legion in Wilberforce is sponsoring a Fiddle Contest and Monmouth Square Dance on Sat. July 2nd.

Now for raffles to beat all raffles, the Recreation Committee is raffling a lakeshore lot on Lake Lorraine. The tickets are going for $5.00 a piece and will be available soon. The draw will be made in the fall.

Proceeds from all of the above mentioned events will be going to the Arena Fund. We aren't saying you should attend everything, but surely you know people who will be interested in at least one event. So talk about what's going on in your community.

Boys in the Wilberforce Minor Hockey Association will be at the Banquet on April 29. It's a Pot Luck affair. The trophies will be presented at that time and the new executive will take office at that time also.

By the way Moms and Dads if you plan to attend and don't know what to bring, Maureen Bousfield at 448-2817 will soon put that right.

The Crystal Reflections will be playing at the Wilberforce Minor Hockey fund raising dance, on May 7. The dance starts at 9:00 p.m.

Birthdays this week were celebrated by Bessie Godfrey, Wayne Rutter, Angela Plumly, Nancy Anderson, and Kevin Marks.

working in the Haliburton area this summer. Regular tourist accommodation is, of course, too expensive for somebody who is going to spend two to three months working in the area and we are therefore hard pressed to offer concrete suggestions to these people. We would certainly be pleased to hear from anyone who would like to take in roomers or boarders at this time of the year.

They tell us that over in Gooderham they are planning the biggest fireworks display ever for this year. The display will be staged on the Sunday evening May 22 at the ball park and an admission charge of only $2.00 per car will be in effect. This is the only fireworks display we are aware of in the County and we understand the folks down there have always put on a very worthwhile exhibition.

The County Fair Boards dance last week in Minden was a whopping success and if that's an indication of things to come this must be the year for the Fair to really "come alive". Don't forget this is a County Fair and with the new date and with all this new life things should be really hopping in Minden this August 13th and 14th. Be part of it.

COMING EVENTS

May 4 - H.H.S.S. Glee Club presentation. Proceeds to Haliburton & Minden Scouts, P.E.I. Fund.
May 21 - Minden Kinsmen Mayfest - Community Centre - Music by the Mystics.
May 22 - Gooderham Fireworks Display at the Ball Park. $2.00 per car.

Physical fitness

by Margaret Milne

Since walking and running have become my favourite way of exercising, I write about them with enthusiasm and some insight into the problems that we "fitness joggers" run into. (No pun intended).

Equipping yourself to begin running is fairly easy. Strong and comfortable running or track shoes are the only necessity. Don't use cheap sneakers. Your feet may suffer, and you really won't save much. There's a lot more wear in good track shoes. It is a good idea to have some clothes for running that you can keep separate, because you will sweat.

It isn't necessary to buy new ones. T-shirts and shorts are fine for warm weather, sweatshirts and loose fitting pants for cool weather. Shorts can rub and cause a rash on the legs if they are too tight. Women are best to use stretch shorts. Men either use track shorts, or have a split of a few inches made in the side seam of regular shorts.

One addition I would recommend, if you don't already have one, is a hooded nylon jacket for rainy days. You don't want to be forced to miss your running every time it rains. It can really be fun to run in the rain if you have some protection from it, because the rain has a pleasant cooling effect.

The place that you run is entirely up to you. You should pick a course half of the distance you intend to go, so that you run both ways on it. That way you will run an equal amount of uphill and downhill, against wind and with wind. If the course is on a road, use your car odometer to measure the course. This isn't a completely accurate method, but over longer distances it's more practical. Another way of measuring, is to put a piece of tape around a bicycle wheel's tire, and push the bicycle along the course, counting each time the tape strikes the ground. Measure how far it is around the wheel, and you can figure out the distance that way. This is also a possible method if your course isn't on a road.

When using a paved road, keep to the shoulders as much as possible, as pavement is harder on the feet.

Now to start running. The first two weeks should be spent walking a mile each time as quickly as possible. Once you begin to run, you will need a proper warm up of calisthenics, or leg limbering up or running-in-place perhaps.

The warm-up should get the circulation moving faster, exercise the leg muscles and begin to push the heart rate up gradually. Then you are ready to run.

If you become too winded during your run, you will slow down to a walk until you are ready to run again. At the end of the run you should have a cool-down period. Walk around for a while or do some other kind of light exercise so that the excess blood in the legs

50 youngsters ready to play

Some 50 would-be softball players between the ages of eight and 12 gathered at the Archie Stouffer playing field Sunday as a new softball league got underway. The league will be the first of its kind in about 10 years, according to one of the head organizers, Gene Newell. The weather might not have been that promising Sunday, but the turnout and enthusiasm were. The league offers open registration to both boys and girls, and is being helped along by good response from the parents.

Mr. Newell explained that following a second scrimmage day this Sunday they hope to come up with four balanced teams.

More than the first 50 are expected to come out this week. Scheduled games will probably begin by May 24.

Gene Newell, Bob Penfold, Neil Burk and Bob Wells are to coach the four teams.

Mr. Penfold noted on Sunday that there have been other parents offering their help, and said that the co-operative effort was an attempt to have something for the children to do once the minor hockey season was over. It is hoped that the softball will fill the growing need for summer activities for this age group.

He also noted that it had not yet been determined if the league was to be highly competitive or not, indicating that there was some feeling that it should be kept to a low key and more relaxed than hockey.

Parents will be working on getting sponsors and sweaters for the teams as time goes on, Mr. Newell said.

Maple Lake bowlers on playoff trail

Play-offs started in the Maple Lake Bowling League this week with Ev's Avengers of the Consolation series with top pinfall over all 3282; Audrey's Angels was next with 3178 and Dan's Dynamos 3087. For the Champion Series it was Wessex Gassers 3091; Harry's Hornets 3063 and Ron's Rollers 3054. Pretty close competition!

Ron Robinson Sr. rolled the high triple of 716 (272, 234); Dan Harding 696 (243, 234); Ed Cox 689 (282, 228);

Barb Fountain 678 (264, 246); Albert Cox 670 (267, 221); Fred Cox 666 (276); Garth Henderson 665 (244, 235); Ron Robinson Jr. 664 (259, 227); Ev Stata 633 (232, 211); Marlene Cook 612 (237, 215); Wes Stata 605 (241, 206).

High singles bowled: Harold Kirkpatrick 255; Flo Henderson 234; Rick Harding 224; Grace Downey 223; Audrey Fountain 217; Marlene Robinson 214; Deb Harding, Shannon Patterson and Harry Henderson 213.

Dave McKinlay tops in Tuesday Night Combines

With games of 199, 229 and a high score of 385 Dave McKinlay led the high triples for the Tuesday Night Combines April 19th, by adding up a total of 813 in three games.

The next in line was Pearl Foster, who fell behind Dave's lead with a triple of 744, bowling steady games of 225, 258 and 261.

Bob Patton took third place in the standings, rolling 198, 253 and 223 for a triple of 674.

Danny Harding bowled 151, 200 and 289 for 640; Bill Cowan, 174, 261 and 198 for 633; Bruce Medcalfe Jr., 209, 175 and 226 for 610; Art Beatty, 225, 206 and 172 for 603 and Brenda McKinlay, 230, 173 and 199 for 602.

High singles rolled in from Wilbert Gibbs with 245; Mabel Medcalfe, 239; Lillian Gorgevatt with two high games of 230 and 213;

Verna Sawyer, 228; Betty Yatemann, also two high scores of 226 and 215; Jim Foster, 221; George Jones, 220 and Bruce Medcalfe Sr., 212.

In the last night of the playoffs, the final team point totals put Stewart Dawson and his team in first place in the first section with 9,387.

Second place was captured by Brenda McKinlay with 8,945. Third went to Gertie Ripley with 8,930.

In the second section, fourth place for a total of 8,992 was handed out to Ada Gibbs. Vi Smith placed fifth with 8,817 and Mary Stevenson wound up sixth with 8,657.

BY JIM BADGLEY

The hockey season officially came to an end last week in Ontario when the Toronto Maple Leafs bit the dust so to speak and dropped four games in a row to the Flyers.

We will hear the story now about how hard the club worked and just how excellent such starts as McDonald, Sittler and Salming were.

Well McDonald wasn't bad, Sittler played some excellent hockey and if it wasn't for Salming the Leafs would have played at least seven games in the series (instead of six).

Mr. Salming happens to have a ha-bit of giving the puck away in his own end, something that isn't fitting a player of "his status".

Now we hear that the battle for the league's top defenseman is between Montreal's Larry Robinson and Toronto's Salming. If Salming finishing second in the voting someone had better give the judges a saliva test.

Savard, Robinson and Lapointe have had great years for Montreal and Dennis Potvin has looked good for New York Islanders. Good enough in fact that I would give all four of them the nod ahead of the Toronto star.

Not only that but Ian Turnbull who also guards the blueline for Toronto developed into quite a hockey player as the season went on and no doubt could be regarded as high as Salming.

No, Borje Salming is not the second Bobby Orr, he isn't even the second Serge Savard, or Larry Robinson or Guy Lapointe or Dennis Potvin.

To tell you the truth the best looking defenseman in the Leaf-Flyer series wasn't even a Leaf. (This might be hard to take for Toronto faithfuls who figure their players are the best even when the club goes down to defeat). The best defenseman played for the Flyers and the best of them all seemed to me at least to be Bob Dailey.

District Convention

Legion 129 News

The Annual District "F" convention was held at Br. 67 Lindsay, on April 23-24. This convention was well attended with 203 voting delegates present. The opening ceremonies took place at 1300 hours, April 23, with District Commander Cliff Cote presiding.

The business session then got underway with minutes of the last convention and the minutes of district council meetings being read and acted upon. After the business session a social hour was held in the Ladies Lounge. In the evening a dance was held in the auditorium and a good time was had renewing acquaintances with people whom one had not seen since the last convention. On Sunday the meeting was called to order at 0930 hours in the Armours and a very lively session ensued. Comrade Dude Hills gave a very detailed report on District sports activities and at that time a motion was presented to have the District Sports Officer appointed rather than elected, carried.

One of the first matters to be brought before the body was a decision by the Province of Ontario that tenders be called for to provide wreaths for municipal officials to lay at Remembrance Day ceremonies. This would mean a loss of some $10,000 to Vetreco, the present supplier, and it was moved and seconded that each branch write a strong letter of protest to their M.P.P. protesting this move.

It was also decided that any wreaths not purchased from Vetreco, by the Province, will not be recognized at the Service.

At this point I would like to quote directly from the report of the District Sports Officer "Associates can form up to 50 percent of any team, in any sports, except curling. We expect this will be passed in curling at the Prov. convention in May, at London. If forming 50 percent of a team, two associates can play together. An associate in 5 pin, darts and horseshoes, qualifying for his Branch at Zone level, can continue right up through District, Provincial and Dominion.

The Provincial per capita tax has been increased to $1.50 per member. A number of resolutions were presented by the District Resolutions Chairlady, Com. Mary Campkin and these will be presented at the next monthly meeting.

A very lengthy report was given by the Action Chairman, R. H. Vaughan, concerning the Home Identification Plan introduced into Canada by the Kiwanis Club and handed over to the Legion for national coverage. This is a very worthwhile endeavour and the local branch will be initiating it shortly.

Reports were read and presented by the Zone Commanders and Committee Chairman.

It would appear that all branches are active in both Legion work and community efforts.

One member from the Millbrook branch spoke on the two minute silence. She has, over the past few months, timed the Silence and it appears to be getting shorter and shorter.

The Chairman thanked her for her concern and reminded the gathering to keep this in mind in the future. Branch 129 received an Early Bird Award again this year, but only in the lowest category. The Early Bird has been changed somewhat in that it is now divided into categories. Thirty percent and over is the lowest category, fifty is the next, followed by sixty and then seventy-five. Let us try for something better next year, comrades.

A number of awards were made by Com. Hank Pysky, the Public Relations Chairman, and you can imagine the surprise of this correspondent when he called Branch 129 to come forward and receive a certificate. These were presented "for excellency in promoting public relations at branch level". As usual, there was a very small turnout from Haliburton, but those who did attend certainly found it both worthwhile and enjoyable.

This was election year at District level and this was conducted by Com. John Naw, of Port Perry. Com. Merrill Dunn, of Cannington the present Deputy District Commander, was acclaimed District Commander and Com. James Colton became the new Deputy District Commander, winning over three other candidates. The next District Convention will be held at Branch 99, Belleville, in 1978. The District Drumhead will be in Norwood. The District Drumhead in 1977 will be held at Branch 100, Brighton on Sunday, August 14.

There were plenty of winners at Emerson Lumber's Inventory Adjustment Sale. There were 10 winners in all. Pictured are Olive Jones, Pat Clarkson, Mrs. Royce Bain, Vittoria Formica (the top

High school class travels to Ohio to study pre-historic man

A field trip to Ohio, by grade 11 students at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School may uncover some little known facts about prehistoric man's skill with mathematics, geometry and astronomy.

The class has worked in the community, throughout this year, to raise money for a trip that will take them and a new method of investigation, to the State of Ohio, to examine prehistoric earthmounds, earthworks, and serpent mounds, to see if prehistoric man on this continent used a standard of measurement, understood the 19 lunar cycle and could predict winter and summer solstices.

Under H.H.S.S. history teacher Frank Wallace, the students have made themselves familiar with a method of testing such formations developed by Alexander Thom of Britain. With the help of a BBC film on Thom's study of Stonehenge, a prehistoric formation that can predict the solstices and seemed to be based on some advance mathematical knowledge, the H.H.S.S. history class and mathematics department have established a method of testing for a mathematical principle behind the serpent mounds and earthworks.

Thom's studies proved that ancient man used a standard measurement of 2.72 feet in the construction of Stonehenge. Mr. Wallace explained, and there may be a similar standard measurement behind North American formations that have not yet been explained.

"There is a tendency to underestimate ancient man," Mr. Wallace said, noting that the earth formation in Ohio has not been examined since 1900 for proof of superior knowledge in geometry, mathematics and astronomy.

The class was to visit earthmounds in Ontario this year, but provincial parks do not open until May 24, at which time there were no charter busses available, so the decision was made to travel to Ohio, Mr. Wallace said.

The students operated a car wash in Minden and one in Haliburton, on Saturday and Sunday, the last of their drive for funds. They have worked for a large part of this year at jobs in the community, working for minimum wage.

Their trip will last for four days, from Thursday morning until late Sunday. Accommodation will be first class all the way, and the students have earned every part of it themselves.

PROBATION

John M. Hopkins, of Toronto, was sentenced to two years probation with a strong list of conditions at the provincial court in Minden, April 19, on a count of theft under $200.

Hopkins, 16, was charged with theft from the people he was living with in West Guilford.

Terms of the probation include that he is to keep the peace, report to a probation officer once a month, reside with his parents and obey the rules of the household, be in by 10:00 p.m. from Sunday to Thursday and at midnight on Friday and Saturday. He is also to go to school or get a good job.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

Of course, the big news in the Ontario Legislature was the new Provincial Budget, which indicated total spending of $13.698 billion in the fiscal year 1977-78 and over all revenue of $12.621 billion for a deficit of $1.077 billion, compared with last year's $1.388 billion.

The Treasurer's tax increases will total $209 million, tax cuts $201 million.

Tax on a 20 pack of cigarettes will rise by five cents; tax on cigars and cut tobacco will double (the Government expects to make $58 million from this increase).

South of the French River, car registration fees as of December 1st will be as follows: four-cylinder - $30.; six-cylinder - $45; eight-cylinder - $60. Up from $23., $32. and $40., respectively. Motor cycle registration will increase to $20., and any car with a displacement of more than 397 cubic inches registered for the first time in 1978, will cost $80 to register. The Government expects to raise $78 million on these tax hikes.

Because people living North of the French River have greater distance to travel and sometimes pay more for gasoline, vehicle and motorcycle registration will be reduced to a flat $10. Savings to Northern Ontario residents - about $12 million.

Sales tax exemptions on restaurant meals will be increased to $6 from $5 and to $3 from 75 cents on entertainment admissions. Hotel and motel operators will not have to pay sales tax on disposable items - such as bar soap, toilet paper, matches, shower caps - used in guest rooms. Thermal insulation materials used in all buildings and on other energy-conserving devices, such as heat-recovery units and solar cells, will be exempt from 7% sales tax.

Provincial compensation to small businesses collecting retail sales tax will increase to four per cent to a maximum of $700 a year. This will cost the government about $5 million.

Effective June 1st, a tax of five cents will be imposed at the retail selling level on each can of carbonated soft drink. The government hopes to raise $25 million in revenue from this move.

The Government anticipates a loss of $3 million in revenue by raising the exemption from Ontario income tax to cover people with less than $1,680 taxable income - up from $1,540.

Small corporations with taxable paid up capital up to $50,000 will pay a flat tax of $50 instead of filing capital tax returns. Those with more than $50,000, less than $100,000, will pay $100.

The limit on the value of estates exempt from succession duty has been raised to $300,000 from $250,000 and non-residents (including corporations) will pay a 20 per cent land-transfer tax only on agricultural land and recreational land, rather than on all land as hitherto. The time a non-resident must wait to avoid payment of the land speculation tax had been reduced to five years.

Under an amendment to the gift tax legislation, present allowances will be doubled. Gifts of up to $10,000 per recipient and $50,000 per donor will be exempt from the tax.

Ontario Hydro's borrowing freedom goes to $200 million for next year.

We consider the Budget to be, in large measure, an admission of past fiscal sins. For the first time in history, the province is paying interest of over one billion dollars on our debt - an increase of 17%.

Our main concern is lack of effective measures to improve the critical unemployment situation in Ontario. The Treasurer himself predicts that 12,000 more people will be unemployed here this year, compared with last (an increase of 5%).

Although the Budget incorporates a number of measures which are supposedly intended to reduce unemployment for Ontario's youth, all the proposals are short term in effect - the duration of the jobs so created is no longer than 16 weeks, although a few - very few - will last 32 weeks. The Ontario Youth Employment Programme, with its $1 an hour bonus to employers, will not necessarily create new jobs - and in any event will certainly not create the 20,000 jobs as indicated. In fact, the programme will fund fewer than 16,000 summer jobs, each lasting only 16 weeks.

See you next week.

Deer seasons are announced by Miller

Ontario's 1977 deer seasons were announced by Natural Resources Minister Frank S. Miller.

He said that seasons in Northwestern Ontario remain basically unchanged from 1976. In the traditional eastern deer range, however, seasons open six days later to allow the hunt to start, as last year, on the first Monday in November.

The area surrounding Algonquin Provincial Park, south of the Mattawa River, Highway 124 and the Magnetawan River and north of Highway 7, is placed into one zone with an open season for both residents and non-residents from November 7 to November 12.

"The deer population in this area is currently at low levels. It could be affected by hunting, so the seasons are kept short to limit the harvest," Mr. Miller said.

Deer numbers are on the rise in agricultural Southern and Southwestern Ontario, where habitat and winter severity do not markedly restrict deer populations. Much of the southwestern part of the province comprises one large archery hunting zone. The archery season for this area, for residents only, is from October 24 to December 10.

Other seasons in Southern Ontario are essentially the same as those in 1976, opening on November 7, the first Monday in November.

Physical fitness

can return to the trunk and head gradually. If you stop too fast, you may become dizzy or feel sick.

Any watch with a second hand can be used to time the run.

Once you begin to run, you will become concerned with measuring your progress. This is natural and desirable, but don't let it become an obsession. You will have "good days" and "bad days", but even bad days are good if you've taken the trouble to exercise. You've accomplished something.

Basically there are two ways to progress - by going further, and by going faster. Some people are naturally built for speed, and others more for endurance. There are actually such things as "fast fibres" and "slow fibres" in the muscles, and the amount of each that you have is something you can do nothing about.

I'll just mention here some more information I recently picked up on the subject of speed: using longer strides is more tiring than running with shorter faster ones. If you are inclined to become too competitive, and get discouraged when others go faster, remind yourself you are not in training for the Olympics. Find your own favourite distance and speed and enjoy it. You can experiment with other distances and speeds when you want to.

My own regular workout is 3 miles in under 43.30. This is barely more than a fast walk, but it gets me more than enough "points", done five times a week. Sometimes I run it faster, or run two miles instead. But faster workouts are more tiring, even for the same training value. So if you experience too much tiredness, go slower and farther.

Walking does have advantages. It is less fatiguing for the same benefit. There is less stress on the feet. It can soothe a headache that running would only jar. It requires less warming-up and cooling-down. It looks less like "exercising" for those shy of exercising in public. And walking doesn't get you so much out of breath. This is an important consideration if you are asthmatic, like me, or have a slight cold. (Don't run with a severe cold, or with flu, or with a fever.)

To get more information on the distances and times you need to run, and on the rate that you can progress, you can consult the Aerobics books I mentioned last week.

Van hits house causes $1,750 in damages

A single vehicle accident in Haliburton, April 23, resulted in $250 damage to a van and $1,500 to a house.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that the vehicle was parked on a steep grade while the driver, Allan Vernon Cox, 29, of Minden, made a delivery. The vehicle started downhill and struck the front porch of Murray Watt's house.

A single car crash April 19 at 1:30 p.m. on County Road 3, resulted in $1,000 damage to a car driven by Bert A. Madill, 20 of Gooderham.

Madill has been charged with careless driving and failing to wear a seatbelt.

The OPP report that the car was southbound at the time of the accident and entered the east ditch striking a rock.

There was $2,000 damage to a truck driven by William H. Pollard, 29, of Norland when it was involved in an accident on Highway 35, south of Minden. The accident took place April 1 but the police say it wasn't reported until April 18.

Pollard has been charged with failing to report a collision.

Sour notes

By BILL SMILEY

DON'T expect the usual collection of optimistic opinion, cheery chat, and happy household hints normally found in this space. I'm feeling really mean this week.

If St. Francis of Assisi himself showed up, I'd probably snarl, "Stop feeding those bloody birds! All they'll do is dump all over us."

My normally sunny nature is soured by a sore back. It started out as just a little pain, like a breadknife going into my kidneys. You know. The sort of thing that makes you emit a startled "aah!" when you straighten up after brushing your teeth and spitting in the sink. Lots of guys have that. It goes with the territory.

Then my two grandboys came for the weekend. They weigh about fifty pounds between them. There's a certain amount of jealousy. Nobody can play the same tunes on their fat necks that Granddad can, by simultaneously sucking and blowing. As a result, no sooner do I get one kid grinning and giggling, and plunk him down, than the other is standing there, arms extended.

As any grandfather knows (grannies are smarter and threaten to wash their faces and the kids run), it is literally impossible to ignore the upstretched arms of a tyke.

Consequently I reckon, roughly, that I lifted about a ton and a half of grandbabies off the floor over the weekend. Another forty-odd times I leaned far over and separated them when mayhem seemed imminent.

As any old codger with a slipped disc or crumbling vertebrae can tell you, this is known as the poor way, one of the worst, of curing a sore back. The other poor way, the absolutely worst, I won't tell you, as this is a family journal.

To top it all, I have a week's vacation coming up. I have a fairly grim certainty that I'm going to be spending it, and a couple after it, flat on my back.

Put you to bed. That's what doctors do when you go to them with a sore back. First they poke you hard a few times in the sore back and ask, "Does that hurt?" Of course it does. Then they feel your belly, which is not the greatest erotic experience in the world. They tell you take a deep breath. They tell you to cough. They seem fairly sure you have a hernia. In the back?

"Can you move your legs?" they ask, ignoring the fact that you walked from your car into their outer waiting-room, and from there into the torture chamber. "Does it hurt to sit for long periods?" Damn right. You've just sat in the waiting-room for an hour and a half after your appointment time, and almost fainted when you stood up.

Then, non-plussed as usual, they take off their glasses and nod solemnly. "Yes, it seems sore all right. We'd better get a picture of that." Translation: I haven't a clue, but maybe it will go away by the time you get it X-rayed and the prints get back to me. About 48 hours.

They give you some pain-killers "in case you have some pain." At this point tears as big as tea-bags are spurring out of your eyes from pain. You emit something between a groan and a squeal of pure pain as you clamber down from that jeezly high bed in their office.

Pain? Migawd, my wife came up this morning to see why I hadn't come down for breakfast. I was lying on the bedroom floor, weeping. I'd just tried to put my socks on.

Twice today, a police car pulled up as I was trying to get out of my car. They'd seen the door open and one leg emerge. Two minutes later another leg hove into view. After three more minutes, a crouched, swaying torso followed. They thought I was plastered. I was merely trying to straighten up without screaming.

All right? We know where we stand? Don't expect any sweetness and light in this column.

Now, let's deal with that young rip, Margaret Trudeau. My wife is on her side. Newspaper columnists have been generally kind. I asked a young person the other day for an opinion on Margaret's shenanigans, and got the predictable answer, "Sheez oney dooner own thing. Snuthin wrongn that."

I heartily disagree. There's such a thing as responsibility, though the word makes people cringe these days. If you can't stand the heat, fine, get out of the kitchen. But don't run into the public square and whine that you're just trying to find yourself as a person. That's juvenile. I have never been a fan of her husband, but I admired his domestic loyalty on this undoubtedly painful occasion.

Speaking of the Trudeau's, I'd love to disinter a column I wrote a few months back, when the Liberals were on the ropes, and the political vultures were swarming to pick the bones of the P.M. But that would be saying "I told you so," one of the nastiest sentences in the English language. A prophet is indeed without honor in his own country. Sometimes in his own kitchen.

Good for Harry Boyle, head of CRTC. He has made it clear that our national broadcasting company, whatever its faults, is not merely a tool for keeping the Liberal government in office, contrary to the opinions of some Cabinet ministers.

About sweet teeth. I've never heard such absolute crap as the banning of saccharine because some mice got some cancer when they were stuffed with the stuff. Far better, I presume, to die of cigarettes or booze than to expire from drinking two or three hundred cans of saccharine-sweetened drinks a day. I guess diabetics and fatties don't swing much weight at the polls.

There, I've vented some of my venom, and my back feels better already. Instead of feeling like Prometheus, with that vulture tearing out his liver, I merely have the more moderate pain of a dog excreting razor blades.

More people than ever want to own their own home.

Ontario has a plan to make it easier.

AHOP/HOME (Assisted Home Ownership Program/ Home Ownership Made Easy Plan) is a federal-provincial program designed to bring home ownership within the reach of moderate and lower income families by offering financial aid in the form of loans, subsidies and grants. How much aid you receive depends upon your household formation, income and the monthly carrying charges for your new home.

All types of new houses are eligible for assistance as long as they are AHOP qualified by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and are sold within the maximum AHOP prices in your municipality.

Through an AHOP Interest Reduction Loan, the first year's mortgage payments are reduced to an 8% interest rate. An AHOP subsidy of up to $750 is available during the first year of occupancy so you would not spend more than 25% of your household income on mortgage payments and municipal taxes. You may also qualify for a Provincial HOME Grant of up to $750 in the first year should your mortgage and tax payments still exceed 30% of your household income. Subsidies and grants are not repayable. Loan repayments begin in the seventh year of the mortgage.

If you are interested in buying a home under the AHOP/HOME Program, look in the real estate section of your newspaper for participating builders.

Gems of Truth

The Apostle Thomas is best known because of his absence when the Risen Saviour met the other ten apostles in the upper room, John 20:24. In scripture Thomas is called Didymus for identification which is equivalent of the Greek word "twin". Tradition makes him a native of Antioch and he had a twin sister by the name of Lydia. He was called by Jesus to be one of the chosen twelve apostles and he was a Jew. Math. 10:3, Mark 3:18, John 20:24.

There is not much recorded in the Word about this man Thomas, but when he does come in the limelight, his character is very interesting. He is mentioned four times in connection with the other Apostles, and he appears three times in a conversational setting. John 11:6, 14:3-8, 20:24-29. He is also best known to us by his doubting attitude, this has marked him as a slow believer and lacking in faith. However, this trait of Thomas' to be sure before coming to conclusions, is not altogether bad. Too often people jump at the sound of the spectacular before being assured of its authenticity Scripturally.

Thomas was indeed a real disciple of the Lord, born of the Spirit and united to the Lord by a living faith. When and how he first met the Lord Jesus and followed him, we do not know. Being a Jew, he like the others believed in the Old Testament promises that foretold the coming of the Messiah. What he had seen of Jesus convinced him that he had come indeed. This was a terrific stand to take in that day, as much opposition was openly shown against the Lord Jesus and his followers. Thomas was a marked man now. It took courage and faith to identify with the Messiah and his life and conduct underwent a true transformation. Is it not a great step for anyone to decide to identify with the Saviour today? Such and one becomes a new creature, has new life, new aspirations and associations. 11 Cor. 5:17. Even if such an one is slow in understanding the deep things of the Christian life, such have made a decision that will affect their destiny for better and forever.

When Thomas came to Christ as a believer in Him, the Lord knew exactly what Thomas was and what he would become. John 1:42, 9:24. He was accepted with all his limitations, just as He accepts every sinner that comes to Him. 6:37, Rev. 22:17. Thus it is with each one of us even now, the Lord knows us better than we do ourselves and He is never surprised at anything we may do. He takes us just as we are and begins in us that good work which shall be completed in the "day of Christ". Phil. 1:6, Jude 1:24.

Thomas remained a faithful disciple and continued with Christ when others walked no more with Him. John 6:66-69. The fact that he was absent from the fellowship when the Risen Lord made His first appearance to them, has its own lessons. The absence of Thomas from the meeting, or his late coming, is not something just thrown in the record to complete the narrative. It teaches us the vital truth that God notices the absence of His people from assembly gatherings as well as their late coming. It possibly never crossed the mind of Thomas that his absence would be recorded in the Scripture and that all the world would know about it some day. But God took notice of it and the Holy Spirit brought it to John's memory and caused him to write it down for our learning and instruction.

How solemn it is that the Lord takes note of the whereabouts of His own! Yes, the indifference is watched as well as the pleasing acts of life. Just why do so many so called Christians absent themselves from the assembly of God's people? Does not "doubt" breed indifference and fills the life with carelessness regards spiritual things? Unconcern for the Lord's cause throws the life open to the allurements of worldly and sinful pleasure and makes many absentees in our day. How needful is the exhortation of Hebrews 10:25 "to not forsake the assembling of ourselves together; as the manner of some is, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as ye see the "day of the Lord" approaching. May every Lord's Day find us in the assembly for worship, edification and fellowship.

PLAN No. 65-1478
AREA : 1478 sq. ft.
WIDTH : 74 ft.

Plan No. 65-1478

An attractive, low-profile bungalow, economical to build, yet affording a comfortable expanse of living area on the main floor, this full basement home could be built without the double garage or with parking relocated at the rear, depending on the width of your lot.

Brick and stone veneer, shuttered windows, panelled-front door, and an attractive bay window in the living room, create an exterior of charm.

The foyer leads to the living room on the right, the kitchen and the inner hall to the left. The three-piece vanity bath serves guests as well as the secondary bedrooms. The master bedroom features a generous double closet and convenient two-piece ensuite.

Featuring a fireplace, the large living room with the dining room, forms an L-shape. This spacious area is ideal for those extra large parties.

A French door leads from the dining room to the exterior and a pocket door leads to the kitchen. The dining room itself is a comfortable family size.

A cleverly-planned back door leads to a small foyer, which distributes traffic directly to the basement or kitchen. By multiple use of the master bedroom's ensuite, a bathroom is also handy to the foyer for a quick change after gardening or the like, before entering the main living area.

Plans for design No. 65-1478 may be obtained at a cost of $55 for the first set and $8 for each additional set, plus $3 for postage and handling.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series No. 32, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling).

To order these items please send cheque or money order, payable to Home of the Week. Address your orders to Home of the Week, c/o Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Minden News

by Jeanne Sears

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Emily Loucks, Mac MacArthur and Harvey Tripp who died since last week.

Last week eight acting librarians, or Haliburton County Library Staff, were in Lindsay at the Book Fair, at the Armouries. On display were many new children's books and those from our County made lists for suggested purchases. In the afternoon, Donald Jack was there to autograph copies of his new book "Sinc, Betty and the Morning Man", on personalities and the history of radio station CFRB. This Book Fair was arranged by Moti Tahiliani of Lindsay Public Library and we are sure everyone was pleased to see the Book Display by the Publishers and meet the talented Donald Jack.

The U.C.W. postponed their sale of nearly new articles until this Friday at the United Church Hall, from 11 on.

The Agricultural Committee of the Fair Board had a huge crowd at their dance Saturday night, at the Recreation Centre. Glad it was so successful.

At the weekly Mini Card Party, at the Parish Hall last Thursday afternoon, winners were for bridge Helen Stott, for cribbage Fred Wright and Dora Dawson, and for euchre lone hands Nellie Graham and highs Mary Wright and Audrey Wilkin-

The community sends good wishes to these people at Hyland Crest having birthdays in April, Elizabeth Harrison, Zilpah Hie, Sophia Sanderson, Mary Jane Cooper and Margaret Austin.

There was a happy party at the home of the Mervin Gilberts, on April 16, when friends and relatives came to investigate five accidents

Members of the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated five motor vehicle collisions and 78 general occurrences during the week of April 18 to 24.

There were four break-ins reported, nine persons charged with Liquor Licence Act infractions, three persons charged with Impaired Driving and four persons charged with Narcotic Control Act offences.

Mrs. V. Cowan and Mr. & Mrs. Lyman Cox enjoyed a weekend with the Jack Cowans at Phelpsston.

Mrs. Lorne Dawson is home again after a visit with the Jim Dawsons at Ottawa.

The A.C.W. had a very successful Rummage Sale at the St. Paul's Parish Hall last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Tessa Davis sure had a surprise at the home of daughter Mrs. Garnet Stevenson for her 85th birthday, April 21st when many of her friends and relatives gathered there for a little get-together to help her celebrate. She received long distance phone calls from her granddaughter Lola and friend Norm from Florida and her good friends Isobel and Bill Campbell of Willowdale, in the midst of her party. She said she sure had the surprise of her life and had received some money and many flowers, gifts and cards.

Huntsville man is charged

A Huntsville area man has been charged with possession of stolen property and driving while disqualified as the result of a routine check on Highway 530 by the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Randal Blake Scott, 25, of RR 1, Huntsville, was charged April 18 at 11 a.m. while the police were checking on a stolen vehicle.

Error

A typographical error in last week's issue indicated that the cost of a temporary connection onto phase two of Dysart's sewer system at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School cost the Board of Education $3,000.

The cost of the connection is $300 and will save the Board and taxpayers the considerable cost of pumping out the septic tank at $100 each week, until the sewer project is completed.

DEATH NOTICE

Along the Trails

by Roy Bates

Great concern was expressed by several directors of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, at their meeting last week, that the club had reached the limit of its ability this year and that further development of new trails would extend the grooming needs beyond the capability of the club's equipment. "Why", they asked, "should a handful of volunteer workers struggle to locate and clear new routes if there aren't enough days in the week for the Bombs to get around them?"

As one who has watched the HCSA grow, in the short space of six years, from a formidable Algonquin Park Authority, in September, and won continued use of the Whitney hydro line trail. And, it was hardly a defeatist attitude that led the Association to purchase a second grooming unit in order to double its trail maintenance capacity. Why, then, would the same eager beavers who carried the club to the heights of success, suddenly adopt an attitude that would stifle further forward movement?

Perhaps they are tired! Tired of giving up their own leisure time in order to provide better recreation for others! Tired of pouring long hours over ledgers and payrolls and endless reports to the Government! Tired of organizing special rides and social events that few seem to appreciate! And, tired of being hounded by the unthinking snowmobilers who always expect their favourite trails to be groomed first! Is it any wonder that enthusiasm has begun to wane?

You, dear reader, can pull the fat out of the fire. You who are the general snowmobiling public, whether or not you are numbered among the club's three hundred members, can tender your vote of thanks to these workers, and at the same time pledge your support for future development, simply by being present for the next general meeting, 2:00 p.m., Sunday, May 22nd, at the clubhouse at Donald.

At this meeting, or shortly thereafter, the Association will have to make some very important decisions. You can help them. You can make the proposals, and support the resolutions, that will guide the elected directors into the right course of action. You, some of you, can find your place at the boardroom table where you will be the representatives of the snowmobilers and the businesses in your respective areas. Yes, for some of you the time has come to jump in and get your feet wet. And, you couldn't take over at a more opportune time.

Recent official Government studies have indicated that the next few years will bring a substantial increase in leisure time, and this will be reflected in an upsurge of tourist activity and sustained growth in the recreation industry. Snowmobiling is but one part of that industry, but it is a most important part. Its impact on the economy is tremendous, while its effect on the environment is slight. It is, in fact, the least objectionable of all motorized recreations, and like boating appeals to all age groups. It has become the winter replacement for the boat in the family unit.

The Ontario Trails Council anticipating an upsurge in trail-related recreations, is busily preparing its proposals to Government for a comprehensive trails policy. Mr. William Coates, the Council's chairman, has stated that Northern areas with much Crown land will lend themselves readily to trail programming while densely populated Southern areas will be difficult. He suggested that benefits to tourism will be a prime consideration. Where does this leave Haliburton? Right smack in the best possible position to become the playground of the 1980's! If, in fact, that is what we want for Haliburton. If it is, then let's move the ball! The HCSA that has plodded forward over the past six years, first defending the snowmobiler against his adversaries, then improving facilities for his recreation, now stands at a crossroads. Should it, as some directors are suggesting, consolidate its successes by resolving to maintain its present trail system and no more, or should it go all out and extend its efforts not only to additional snowmobile trails but to trails for other uses as well? The answer to that question - and I submit there is only one acceptable answer - must come, jointly on May 22nd, from the trail users of the County and the County's business community. Tell the HCSA what you want for your County, and we'll pledge to help you get it!
